Agenda item: Idaho Federation of Families Presenter: Steve Garci

Discussion:

The family support partners program had 25 people from our region participate in the training. It is a 40-hour training. They received a temporary certification to further their certification process with the state. After competing about 100 hours of further training they are able to fully certify with the state. So far about 75 parents have gone through the training.

Region 4 is doing a pilot project on respite care. CBRS workers are training to be the respite providers for that area. Respite care is available in three ways for that region: group, personal contact, and CBRS workers in that area. There are about 60 days left in the pilot program.

Optum made an arrangement with the Idaho Children's Trust Fund to show a movie called Paper Tigers. It is a documentary based on kids with disabilities/mental health issues in schools. They are going to do four different programs; one will be October 13th in Idaho Falls. There will be a panel discussion afterwards. They would like Logan Zuck to be on the panel. The target population for this event is mental health professionals and teachers, but anyone is welcome to attend.

Idaho Federation of Families has a webinar series accessible on YouTube and their website. It is done through the local TV news station. They are looking to expand and will reach out to Region 7 in the near future.

Agenda item: Statewide CMH Network Conference Calls Presenter: Teriann Parker

Discussion:

June 27th meeting was more of a conversation about respite care. It also addresses the pilot program in region 4. There were updates on what each region is doing.

Agenda item: Promotional/Outreach Opportunities Presenter: Teriann Parker

Discussion:

We have respite money that is supposed to go to the RBHB. The funds have never fully been used. Any family that has a diagnosis from a licensed professional can access funds for respite care. CMH is going to maintain that money and the board will get information out to families that could utilize the funds or become respite care takers.

Community Night Out is August 10th. The group could have a booth and participate in the scavenger hunt. At the Roaring Youth Jam (August 11-13) you can also have a booth, but have to provide a craft activity. It is an all-day activity for the whole 3 days. We can also do Celebrate Youth in Rexburg on August 16th. The goal is to get information out for respite care. A big draw is to let them know that money is available for them to use.

Conclusions:

Teriann proposed that CMH submit an article/ad for a max of $500 in the Post Register special news addition. It will be taken to the board today for approval.

CMH will participate in Celebrate You in Rexburg on August 16. The group will not participate in the Roaring Youth Jam or the Community Night Out on August 10th.

Action items

- ✓ Dave and Mimi put together the ad and submit it.

Discussion:

Geri completed the update for the grant. Money was approved for the shifting within the advertising budget. The Arco roadshow is on August 23. There will be local promotion. Dr. Henry is still coming and travel hasn't been purchased yet. If anybody has a mailing list, we can get the postcards printed and mailed out. Addresses are needed ASAP. We do not have a list of the mental health providers in the area. Optum is starting a website and any fliers the group would like posted just send it to them.
